

Connecticut 4-H Record Keeping

4-H ACTIVITY RECORD SAMPLE

An Activity Record is a “snapshot or summary” of your entire 4-H year. List your 4-H activities for this year only. Record your activities at the time you do them. Keep this 4-H Activity Record with your project records. When compiling your current year’s records, the Activity Record Sheet is placed first, or on top of, the other record sheets you use that year. Use only one Activity Record for each 4-H program year even though you may be in more than one club and have more than one project.

GENERAL 4-H GOALS In addition to project goals, 4-Hers, to be members in good standing should have a goal related to their general 4-H involvement. DO NOT choose a goal related to your project. Circle one of the goals listed below or choose your own and explain how you are going to achieve it.

My general goal for 4-H this year is (check one)

- Public speaking
 Community Service
 Fair participation
 Teen leadership
 Leadership
 Club participation
 4-H promotion
 Other

I am going to achieve this goal by:

Creating and organizing a community service project event which will benefit a non profit organization within my local community.

Other examples

Goal – Club participation - achieve by attending all club meetings

Goal – Public speaking- achieve by doing one presentation during a club meeting or participating in the county public speaking program

Goal – 4-H promotion -achieve by putting a 4-H poster at the library

4-H MEMBER FINANCIAL SUMMARY: Use this sheet to get a “snap shot” of the expenses/income for all your projects this 4-H year. For instance, if you are reporting two projects, one heading might be "horse" and one might be "clothing". If you only have one project- just list that project. Transfer the summary totals from the individual project record sheets. Add more sheets if necessary.

	Project Income	Project Expenses	Profit/Loss	Comments
Project
Dog	$14	$ 684	$ -670	I love my dog, I don't care that I lost money. He is a pet.
Sewing	$00.00	$27	$-27	With the $27 I bought material to make a suit, that if I had to buy would cost over $100
Goats	$1150.00	$1916.00	$-766
Total	$1164	$2627.00	-$1463.00

4-H STORY Write a story telling what 4-H has meant to you this year. Include some of the things you have learned and some of the things that have been the most fun. Tell how you have helped others by being a 4-H member. Share how you have used things learned in 4-H in school or non 4-H activities. What has your 4-H project taught you? If you are typing, use Times Roman font 12

Responsibility is demonstrated in my life through my participation in 4-H. I have been in 4-H for eight years, and my major project is keeping a dairy goat herd. For my project I must feed, hay, and water my animals. I also maintain the goats' hooves and monitor their health. I also oversee and manage the grain used on our farm for all of the animals: chickens, horse, dogs, cats, and goats. This responsibility entails figuring out how much grain each species consumes in one feeding each day. That amount is then multiplied by two to determine the amount per day. I then compute how much grain is needed on seven days. We purchase our grain in fifty pound bags. This requires me to convert the amount of consumed grain consumed in to the number of bags we need to purchase. My family does one grain order per week, so I need to make sure that I get enough grain to feed all the animals for that one week, while keeping within our budget. If I fail to do this responsibly, it can cost my family more money in gas and time spent purchasing additional grain.

My minor project in 4-H is Community Service. For this project I had to develop an idea that could benefit my club, my community, my country, or my world. Next I need to complete all the details of my idea. For example in October, my sister Hannah and I decide to donate pajamas to the Women's Center of Southeastern Connecticut. As we developed the idea we decided to throw a "pajama party". We also decided to not just donate pajamas, but to also raise money. Hannah took over the pajama aspect and I took on the raising money aspect. I went to people and businesses for monetary donations, and to other 4-H clubs to donate themed baskets for a basket raffle. We set the date for December 14th. That evening we had 35 pajamas and sixteen baskets donated. We raised $366.00 for the Center.

This year, 4-H has taught me that a person can have fun and still contribute to their community and be responsible.
